

Samuel Cruz

As an elementary school teacher, I need an easy-to-use app to help plan trips for my classes and facilitate communication and planning with the parents.

Age: 65

Status: Married

Location: Darmstadt, Germany

Speciality: Teaching

Friendly

Helpful

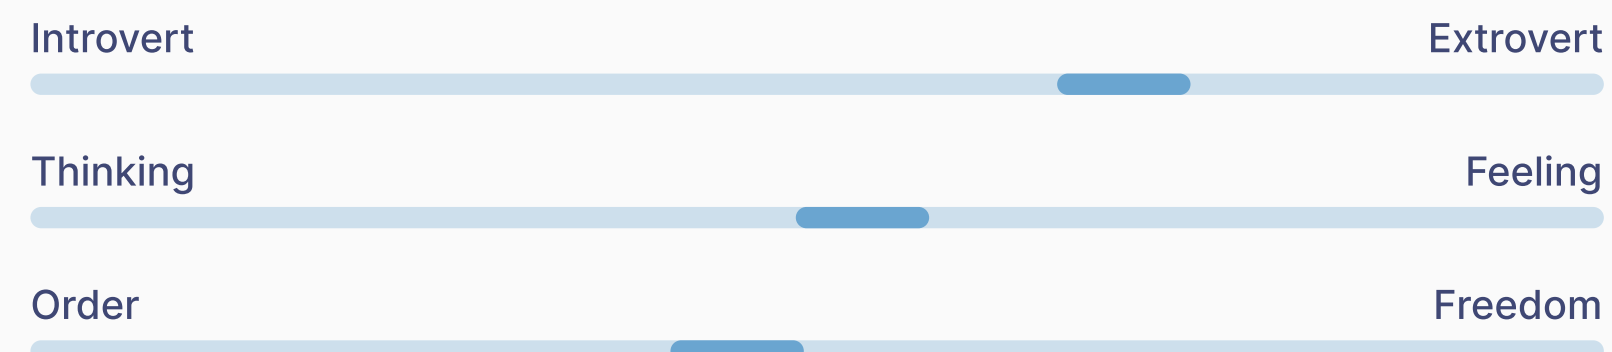

Nice

Curious

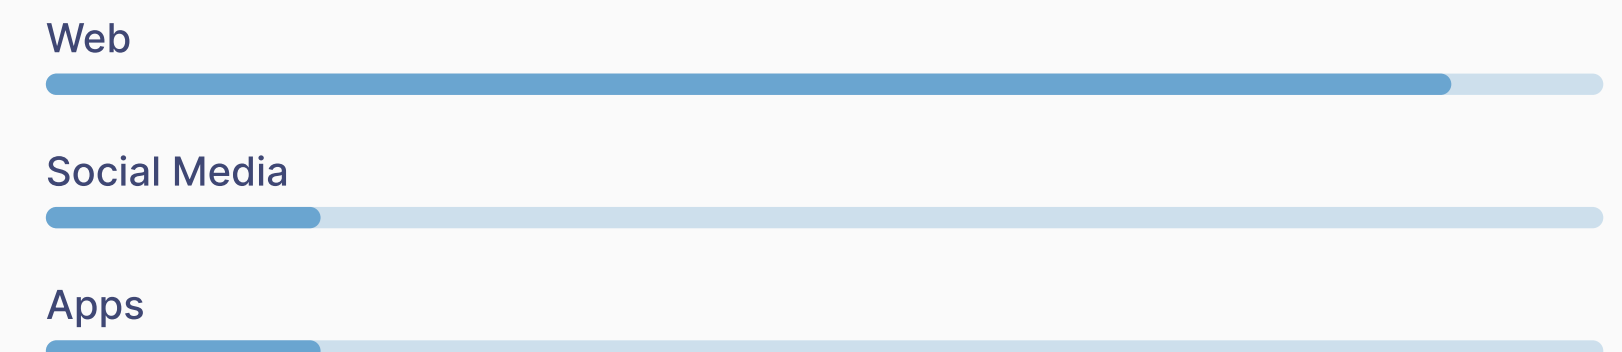

Bio

Samuel is approaching retirement, with only a short time left in his career. He has dedicated his life to teaching in elementary schools because he cherishes being close to the vibrant energy of youth. An avid reader, he enjoys educating himself through books. Although he doesn't engage in major sports-related activities in his free time, he finds great joy in spending time with his family, especially his beloved grandchildren.

Personality

Preferred Channels

Motivation

He is inspired by the spirit of the children he frequently works with. He loves languages and is passionate about their preservation, aspiring to teach them to as many people as possible. Committed to continuous learning, he strives to expand his knowledge and avoid stagnation. He feels saddened by the prospect of soon leaving the school and no longer being able to teach.

Experiences

Throughout his career, Samuel has adeptly utilized a variety of communication tools to enhance his teaching and stay connected with students, parents, and colleagues. He began with the use of fax and mail, appreciating the reliability of these traditional methods. As technology advanced, he embraced SMS and the telephone, valuing their immediacy for quick updates and personal conversations. In recent years, he has also navigated the digital landscape of websites, leveraging their resources for educational materials and maintaining a robust line of communication with the school community.